1.2 First time user

First time users need to create a password before they are able to access the solution.

If you are the primary contact for this tender you will have received an invitation email. Under the “First time user” section in the invitation email you can find a link that can be used to set the password.

If you are not the primary contact or otherwise haven't received the invitation email you can set your password by using the Lost password feature (see chapter 5.4 Lost password).

Click on the link under “First time user” in the invitation email to create a password.

Enter your email address associated with your Contiki user and click Continue:

The screenshot shows the 'Set your password' page in the Contiki eSourcing portal. The header includes the Contiki logo and 'enterprise contract management'. On the right, there are links for 'Help' and 'Log in'. The main content area has a breadcrumb trail 'Home » Set your password' and the title 'Set your password'. Below the title, a message states: 'Please enter your email address. The address should be the same as in the invitation email sent to you. An email will be sent to your email address detailing how to set your password.' There is an 'Email' input field and a 'Continue' button. The footer contains version information: 'Statoil e-sourcing portal version 6.13.5.1246 (Application server version 6.13.5.1241)' and 'Copyright © 2007-2016, CMA Contiki AS'.

You will then get a confirmation that a password request has been sent:

The screenshot shows the 'Password request sent' page in the Contiki eSourcing portal. The header is identical to the previous page. The main content area has a breadcrumb trail 'Home » Set your password' and the title 'Password request sent'. Below the title, a message states: 'An email has been sent to your email account of record. Please follow the directions in that email to set your own password.' The footer contains the same version information and copyright notice as the previous page.

Please follow the link in the received email to set your new password:

There are two input fields: 'New password' and 'Repeat password'. Below these fields is a 'Change your password' button. You are now ready to proceed with your first login (see chapter 1.1 Login to the portal).

Please refer to the Troubleshooting section of this user guide if you are experiencing any issues.

2 General overview

2.1 Navigation in the eSourcing portal

Along the top of each screen in the eSourcing portal there is a “breadcrumb trail” (a trail of which pages have been visited) for quick navigation to previously visited pages.

The breadcrumbs can be seen on all pages except the Welcome page, and is found in the top left corner. An example is shown below - the “trail” is inside the red square in the image.

Once logged in, you can log out from the eSourcing portal by clicking on the Log out link in the upper right corner.

2.2 The welcome page

The welcome page, shown below, is the main page of the Statoil eSourcing portal. Navigate by clicking on the links – just as in any web application/web page.

To return to the Welcome page at any time, click on Home in the breadcrumb trail (see “Navigation in the eSourcing portal” for details).

Logout Help

Welcome to Statoil e-sourcing portal.

Statoil e-sourcing portal is the web portal where potential bidders have access to our current RFIs, RFPs, etc. The entire process from publication to submission of a response is carried out here. Published information is available to all users, while some interactions will require a registration.

The welcome page contains an overview of “My request processes”, a list of request processes that you have been invited to take part in, or are actively taking part in.

2.3 My request processes

Once you are logged in to the Statoil External Sourcing Portal, you will see the My request processes list - an overview of request processes that you either have been invited to take part in, or are actively taking part in. All requests that you are connected to are displayed in this list.

The My request processes list contains columns that show;

- the request's identification number (Number)
- a short description of the request (Description)
- the publication date of the request (Published)
- the deadline for delivering a response (Response by)
- the type of request (Request type).
- the current status set by you (User status), for instance, "Declined to participate" on a request process means that you have decided not to deliver a bid on that request and clicked "Decline to participate".

In order to see the details and/or perform specific actions on a certain request, click on its number or description. This will take you to the request's "Request details page".

If you have delivered your bid on a request process you'll see this request processes in the "My Request processes" list even if its due date is passed. Request will be visible until request became cancelled or contract became awarded.

2.4 Setting up multiple contact persons

It is possible to add access for multiple users within the same company to the eSourcing portal.

The new user's email and mobile numbers should be sent to Statoil's procurement responsible.

One user has to be the main responsible and will receive the invitation email from Statoil. This main responsible is in charge of forwarding any email correspondence from Statoil to the others participating, e.g. the invitation email.

All contact persons are able to perform all steps mentioned in this user guide.

#789E5 : when...?

In order to pose a clarification question to the request, you must write the question in the "Ask a question" box. A question can be 3000 characters, including blank spaces between words.

If you have many questions, please ask one at a time, not many in one question.

You can add a file as attachment to the question by clicking the Browse button and choosing one or more files.

Do not attach your offer in this phase; only information which Statoil asks you to submit ahead of your offer should be attached here.

When the question is ready for posting, click on the Ask now button. The question is now registered. It will then be answered by the RFx responsible and published anonymously on the "Questions and answers" page along with the answer, possibly with an attachment to the answer. The attachment you added to the original question will be shown under the rephrased question. The published answer's attachment will be shown for all parties who have registered an intent-to-bid on the request, while your attachment will only be shown to you.

Unanswered questions and their possible attachments are shown below the Ask now button in the "Ask a question" box.

You can open or save any file from an attachment by simply clicking on it and choose the desired action.

Each question has a reference ID. These reference IDs are automatically generated random alphanumeric sequences and are unique within a request process.

Whenever a question is answered, all parties who have registered an intent-to-bid on the request will receive an e-mail informing of this. In the “Questions and answers” page, the questions asked by you are marked as “Asked by me” so that you can easily distinguish them from questions posted by other users.

Information to all invited parties from Statoil’s procurement responsible can also be published under Questions & Answers. An example:

If necessary, you can delete your uploaded document(s) by clicking the red delete icon located beside each document. You can also browse and upload more documents.

3.6 Delivering a response

You can upload and delete bid documents on a request up until the request's Response Due date/time.

When you have uploaded all your bid documents, you will at some stage wish to confirm your bid delivery. A Confirm delivery button will be present below the Upload more documents button on the request details page, as shown below.

Click on the Confirm delivery button when you are confident that the uploaded files represent your complete and final response delivery. Your bid will then be registered as delivered and you will receive an email informing that the bid upload has been successful. Documents are encrypted and not possible to open or view by anyone until the response deadline and formal opening date. The red X makes it possible to delete – if necessary – and add new files/zip-folders until the Response due date/time is reached

(Exceptionally: if there is no Confirm delivery button, no further action is required of you to confirm your response. Your bid will automatically be registered as delivered once the Response due date/time is reached at which time an e-mail will be sent to your registered e-mail address informing you that your response has been confirmed as delivered.)

3.7 Response clarifications

Response clarifications are questions asked to you by Statoil's procurement responsible.

Before being able to view and answer the response clarifications questions you must first deliver your response. When Statoil procurement has done the formal bid opening, the Response clarifications button will be visible (shown below).

You will be notified by E-mail if and when there are clarifications you need to answer.

4 Statoil eContracting Portal

A contract in Contiki can be shared with the awarded supplier on the Contiki eContracting portal. eContracting is a part of Contiki which makes it possible to collaborate and share documents with suppliers in the administration phase. Sharing of Contract agreement and meeting documentation as an example will make it less administrative and secures that supplier and Statoil are dealing with the same versions of documents.

4.1 My contracts list

If Statoil's procurement responsible has published your agreement, you will find it under My contracts. All contracts shared with you are displayed in this list.

- The contract's start date (Start date);

5 Troubleshooting

5.1 SMS issues

The SMS code needed to login is only valid for a few minutes. You can try to login again to receive a new SMS code if you haven't received/entered the first SMS within 1 minute.

Please contact Statoil Service desk at +47 51 99 92 22 for assistance if you experience the SMS arriving late repeatedly. Press 1 for general IT and 1 for collaboration solutions and office tools. Specify that the issue is Contiki related.

Inform the procurement responsible if you are unable to login close to a deadline.

5.2 User not recognized

Should you receive a "Unknown username or password" message when logging in to the portal this could be due to the user not being set up for access to the portal. Please contact the procurement responsible to verify that the user has been set up and activated.

If the user has been activated and you are still experiencing issues and the procurement responsible is unable to help you please contact Statoil Service desk at +47 51 99 92 22 for assistance. Press 1 for general IT and 1 for collaboration solutions and office tools. Specify that the issue is Contiki related.

If you are unable to remember the password you can use the lost password feature (see chapter 5.4 Lost password) to create a new valid password.

5.4 Lost password

On the "Please identify yourself page" (click on the Log in link in the upper right corner to open this page) you can click on Did you forget your password? to request a new password.

Click on Did you forget your password?:

Enter the email associated with your Contiki user and click Continue:

Choose Languages

Select the Add button

Select the language version you prefer and click OK
